Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, David L. Stenseth has retired from the office of President of the Sioux Falls Development Foundation after 18 years of dedicated service; and,

WHEREAS, David L. Stenseth's commitment to economic growth for his city and state has resulted in such major development projects as the EROS Data Center, Litton and Citibank (South Dakota) N.A. which has brought thousands of new and better jobs to South Dakota; and,

WHEREAS, David L. Stenseth is known and respected by economic development officials and business leaders throughout the state and region, and has served on the board of the American Economic Development Council; and,

WHEREAS, David L. Stenseth has for two decades been a spokesman for the need for intelligent, forward looking development of our state's economic climate through diversification and job creation; and,

WHEREAS, David L. Stenseth was the first "really big" Minnesotan to move to the friendlier business climate of South Dakota thus paving the way for all other Minnesota business people who wanted to "feel free again in South Dakota":

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE S. MICKELSON, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim February 19, 1987, as in South Dakota upon his retirement from the Sioux Falls Development Foundation and in recognition of his contributions to South Dakota's economic development.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Governor's Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Tenth Day of February, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Seven

GEORGE S. MICKELSON, GOVERNOR

ATTEST:

JOYCE HAZELTINE, SECRETARY OF STATE
